FROM THE PASTOR'S PEN

On Thursday, Dick and Barb Deebold and Sandy Hoffman traveled to Philadelphia to attend the funeral of Christine Neff. The funeral was held at the famous 10th Presbyterian Church where Donald Barnhouse and James Montgomery Boice pastored for many years. Bill, Christine’s husband, who is a former pastor of BBC, is taking her passing very hard. Pray for him and his daughter, Sharon, as they adjust to life without this outstanding Christian lady.

Today is the deadline to hand in applications for church membership. Next Sunday a membership class will be held for our one applicant, John Pucci, with his wife, Deb, at our home with a great meal immediately after the Sunday service. John and Deb have been seriously sick with the flu and are now recovering well. Dave and Donna Bartron expressed during the service last Sunday that they would like to come again, even though they are already members, to enjoy Karen’s good cooking. They are happily invited to join us as “advisors” to the new member!

Coreen Volovski moved last week because her landlord sold her apartment. She is a faithful attendee at our Wednesday evening services, but is not able to attend Sunday morning due to her work schedule. Here is her new address for your records:

9 Casa Court
Brigantine, NJ 08203

Lancaster Bible College took second and third place in college rankings published by the Wall Street Journal, edging out Duke University and Brown University. LBC also earned third place on a list of Students’ Top Schools for Career Preparation, ranking ahead of Drexel University and Dartmouth College. LBC president, Dr Peter Teague, stated, “It’s a testimony to what God is doing on our campus in and through the lives of LBC students.” Karen and I are graduates of the college and highly recommend it to you and to your children and grandchildren as an institution that teaches the Word of God and prepares students for ministries of all kinds.
